

Manage Enhanced Communication Technology

Now the combination of bridged SIP functionality along with video/audio security management are available in one powerful package. The new AV LinkPro X series allows for residential and commercial security management and communication with total control.

The addition of ZoneMinder state-of-the-art video control software allows the AV LinkPro X solution to record and analyze footage from any security camera or closed-circuit TV system. The software will work with a single camera or several. If you need multiple cameras spread across a wide area, this is the solution for you.

Built on the powerful AV LinkPro™
Enhanced SIP Bridge platform

Adding audio/video security management of Door and IP cameras to enhance communication
